BRING RACE ISSUE INTO THE DEBATE

Senator Root's Attack on South Causes Warm Discussion in Senate

DEFENSE MADE BY GEORGIAN

New Yorker Asserted That National Government Should Supervise Senatorial Elections in South —Features.

Washington, Feb. 10.—Through the injunction of the race question into the hitherto comparatively commonplace discussion in the Senate of the resolution providing for the election of senators by direct vote, Senator Root, of New York, and Senator Bacon, of Georgia, today lifted that controversy to a plane of almost sensational interest.

The incident arose in connection with extended remarks made by Senator Root in opposition to the Borah resolution. The New York Senator said that the National Government could not afford to barter away the privilege of supervising Senatorial elections in the South, if need should arise for supervision. Also in speaking of the observance of the 14th and 15th amendments to the constitution, he said that from time to time "things happen" in the Southern States which should not be permitted by the States, and which should be corrected, if not by the States, themselves, then by the National government.

Later he took occasion to emphasize this statement.

When first made the declaration caused a visible stir on the Democratic side of the chamber, and the feeling was intensified by the repetition. It at once became manifest that if anything was lacking to insure opposition by the Southern senators to the resolution, it had been supplied by Mr. Root.

Senator Borah, who has charge of the measure, charged that the race question had been dragged into the case for the purpose of alienating the minority. When Mr. Root concluded his speech about 3 o'clock he left the chamber.

Mr. Bacon immediately expressed a desire for specifications regarding the things which the New York Senator had said "happen in the South" which ought to call for Federal intervention, but the demand did not reach Mr. Root until after Senator Beveridge had made a formal reply to the New York Senator's speech, and the Senate was prepared to adjourn.

Just before 6 o'clock, Mr. Bacon revived the Southern question. Repeating the remarks of the New Yorker, Mr. Bacon addressed himself directly to Mr. Root and asked "What are the things to which the Senator refers?"

Mr. Root in response said that he had had reference to the voluntary surrender by the Government of the power to enforce the protection of the suffrage privileges of the Southern negroes. Facing Senator Bacon and speaking with great deliberation, Mr. Root enumerated the peonage system, the lynching of negroes and the disfranchising provisions, such as the Grandfather's clause in the constitution of many of the Southern States, as some of the things calculated to deprive the black man of that equal protection, which the constitution guarantees.

"The people of the United States are willing to fold their hands and wish the Southern people God speed in working out their delicate problem so long as they do so in kindness, but it there should be such oppression as to call for the exercise of the power of the United States to enforce the amendments that power will be exercised and it ought to be," he said.

Mr. Bacon replied that such questions as lynchings and peonage were no wise cognate to the subject under discussion. He accounted for lynchings on the ground of severe provocation, which he said deprived men of their reasons and made demons of them. He found one cause for them in the sparsity of population and to show that this crime is confined to no one part of the country, said there had been lynchings in New York in which the victim was burned to death. As for the charge of peonage, he declared that there was no practice in the South worthy of that name.

Indicating doubt as to Mr. Root having had such offenses in mind, Mr. Bacon said he was sure the New York Senator was really inveighing against supposed offenses against the franchise.

"Perfectly," responded Mr. Root. Then he added: "If the constitution should be so amended as to provide for the election of Senators by direct vote, the National government must retain the power to make those elections free and unhampered. Without this privilege the government of the United States surrenders the power of its own preservation."

"Does the Senator contend for the power of Congress to annull laws now on the statute books of the States, such as the Grandfather's clause?" asekd Mr. Bacon.

"Without the slightest doubt," said the New Yorker.

"Well," returned the Georgian, "the Senator has certainly put us on notice."

"I meant to put you and also the country on notice," replied Mr. Root, speaking with force.

Replying Mr. Bacon said to change the manner of electing senators without giving the States control was a grave risk. Speaking of the past experiences of the South, he said:

"If the Southern people had not contended heroically against conditions which confronted them, civilization would have been destroyed in the South and it would have been but a short time before it would have been destroyed in the entire nation."

After a few remarks by Senator Fletcher, of Florida, regarding the so-called peonage system of the South, the incident closed for the day with Senator Borah's declaration that everybody knew perfectly well why the question of lynchings and peonage had been brought into the controversy.

CAPTURED AT MAXTON.

Negro Arrested There May Be West, Wilson Murderer.

Charlotte, N. C., Feb. 10.—A negro supposed to be Dave Young, an associate of Lewis West, the outlaw, who murdered Sheriff Mumford at Wilson recently, was captured tonight in a negro restaurant at Maxton, Robeson county, not a great distance from the scene of the crime. Young had nine pistols in his possession and two knives, part of the stolen booty from the Dunn Hardware Company, which West's gang robbed and which led up to the tragedy in Wilson. The negro was lodged in jail, which is guarded by an armed posse. Officers from Fayetteville are en route to identify the prisoner.

Raleigh, N. C., Feb. 10.—A negro answering the description of Lewis West, the negro who killed Deputy Sheriff Mumford at Wilson last week, was captured tonight at Maxton by the Chief of Police and placed in jail. The negro had eight pistols on his person, three of which bore numbers corresponding with those stolen at Dunn for which crime the negro was originally wanted; also two large knives, one of which was bloody, and about a quart of cartridges.

There is a fresh wound on the negroe's left breast and he has a wen on the neck, an identification mark of West.

Fayetteville officers were communicated with and parties who know West are en route to Maxton in automobiles to identify the negro.

(A long distance telephone message to the Star at 2:10 o'clock this morning states that parties from Fayetteville had not arrived and were hardly expected before this morning's train; that Mr. Murdoch Smith, of Fayetteville, who happened to be in Maxton, identified West at the guard house and the sheriff of Cumberland, after hearing a description of West over the long distance telephone, stated that the description was nearer like the negro than anything he had heard. The Maxton authorities are confident they have the right man.)

Austin, Texas, Feb. 10.—Governor Colquitt today signed the joint resolution adopted by the present Legislature, providing for submission to popular vote of the proposed amendment to the constitution for Statewide prohibition. The question will be voted on at a special election to be held July 22nd.

TAFT OPENS FIGHT FOR RECIPROCITY

Declares for Canadian Agreement in Direct Appeal to Farmers

MAKES REPLY TO CRITICISM

Spoke at National Corn Exhibition at Columbus, Ohio—Asserts That Agricultural Interests Will be Benefitted.

Columbus, Ohio, Feb. 10.—Carrying forward his campaign for Canadian reciprocity, President Taft today made a direct appeal to the American farmer on that issue. He declared that the impression which had gone abroad that reciprocity with the Dominion would injure the farmer, was entirely without foundation and by statistics and argument sought to lend actual proof to his assertions.

Mr. Taft declared without reservation that the reciprocal agreement with Canada would be a benefit rather than a detriment to the agricultural interests of this country. He said he stated this in answer to the criticism which had been directed against the measure presumarbly on the part of the farmer.

As for himself the President said, he felt that the undoubted general benefit of the pending agreement would entirely vindicate those who are responsible for it. The greatest reason for the adoption of the agreement, he argued, is the fact that it is going to unite two countries with kindred people, living together across a wide continent, in a commercial and social union to the great advantage of both.

"Such a result," added the President, "does not need to be justified by a nice balancing of a pecuniary profit to each."

Mr. Taft's address, the first of his present trip into the Middle West, was delivered at the National Corn Exposition in the auditorium at the State fair grounds. It was because of the agricultural character of his surroundings and the presence of a great many of the influential farmers of this section that the President chose to take up arguments in behalf of the proposed agreement from the standpoint of the agriculturist.

The auditorium, which has a seating capacity of more than 4,000, was crowded to overflowing. The crush about the doors was so great that the services of a score of policemen were called for.

Mr. Taft's address was listened to apparently with the deepest interest and he was warmly applauded at intervals.

There was a demonstration when the President, in closing, said:

"Let the agreement be adopted and go into operation and in six months the farmers of the border, who now have fears will rejoice in this great step toward closer business and social relations with our neighbors. The whole country, farmer, manufacturer, railroad company, middleman, warehouse man, all will be the gainer."

President Taft will press his reciprocity campaign in Illinois tomorrow.

During the forenoon he will make brief speeches at Champagne and Decatur. In the afternoon he will deliver a further address on reciprocity before the Illinois State Legislature at Springfield, and in the evening he will make an address at the Lincoln Day banquet in that city.

The President arrived here today from Washington at 1:45 P. M. He was met by Governor Harmon, a committee of citizens, and a cavalry escort. After a brief parade through the city Mr. Taft motored out to the fair grounds. Following his address he visited Governor Harmon's home for a few minutes. Tonight he dined with 60 guests at the Ohio State University, leaving later for Champaign, Ill.

Owing to a severe cold and sore throat, the President was compelled to cut a part of the programme outlined for him in this city. In order that he might receive treatment and be in a position to carry out the speaking engagements of the trip, the President brought his physician, Dr. J. J. Richardson, of Washington, along with him.

Mr. Taft will be back in Washington Monday morning, to remain until the end of the session of Congress. He has not amplified his position as to an extra session, believing it is perfectly well understood by this time, and that Congress will govern itself accordingly.

Taft's Plea to Farmers.

"Reciprocity with Canada will benefit the entire United States, farmer, manufacturer, railroad company, middle man, warehouse man." This was the declaration made by President Taft in an address at the National Corn Exposition. While his speech was devoted principally to showing that the farmer had nothing to fear from reciprocity, but that it would be to his gain, he attempted to prove also that the other interests of the country would be benefitted thereby. In reference to the criticism that had been made of the proposed agreement, as an attack upon the farmer by depriving him of protection, President Taft asked: "How is the farmer to be hurt?" He declared that in respect to corn the American farmer is king

JEWS FIGHT RUSSIAN TREATY

Urging President Taft to Declare It Void—Claim Country Has Violated Agreement—Resolution in the House.

Washington, Feb. 10.—Claiming that Russia has violated the treaty of 1832 with the United States by denying Jewish citizens of this country the privileges extended to other American travelers, Representative Parsons, of New York, introduced a resolution in the House today calling upon President Taft to declare the treaty void.

Mr. Parson's resolution declares that the fundamental principle of this government is that the rights of its citizens shall not be impaired at home or abroad because of religious belief. The government of Russia has violated the treaty of 1832, the resolution states, by subjecting American Jews to the same restrictions that are placed on Russian Jews. The President is asked to notify Russia of the termination of the treaty within one year.

Shall the United States abrogate the treaty of peace and comity with Russia adopted in 1832 when James Buchanan, later President of the United States, was American minister to Russia?

This is the question which will be discussed at the White House next Wednesday at a conference between President Taft, Secretary Nagel, of the Department of Commerce and Labor, a representative of the State Department and leaders of the three leading Jewish organizations in this country.

It is because of Russia's refusal in certain cases to honor pass ports in the hands of American Jews that this demand upon the government is being made by the Jews of the United States.

President Taft and Secretary Nagel agreed to the proposed conference as the result of resolutions adopted January 19th by the Consul of the Unions of American Hebrew Congregations at New York, urging the President, the State Department and Congress to take prompt measures to terminate the present treaties between he United States and Russia.

NEGRO ELECTROCUTED.

Transylvania County Murderer Pays Death Penalty in Penitentiary.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., Feb. 10.—At 10:30 o'clock this morning Phillip Mills, paid the death penalty in the electric chair of the State prison here for the murder of his wife in Transylvania county, the crime being one in which he broke his gun over the head of his wife and at the same time brought about injuries to their infant that caused its death. The mother was fleeing from him with the child in her arms. Phillips was a negro 23 years old. The plea of "brain storm" was made for commutation by the Governor which was refused. The electrocution, the second in this State, was without a hitch, the first voltage of four having evidently caused death. The prisoner was thoroughly composed and died without speaking a word in the death chamber.

BELIEVES ARNOLD GIRL TO BE ALIVE

Griscom Hurries to Atlantic City After Conferences With Family

WHEREABOUTS MAY BE KNOWN

Luggage Was Seized While He Was Stopping at Hotel—Elder Griscom Refuses to Discuss the Case—The Search.

New York, Feb. 10.—Without his luggage which had been seized in debt proceedings, George S. Griscom, Jr., hurriedly left New York for Atlantic City this afternoon. He had arrived from Italy only last night with the expressed purpose of aiding in the search for Dorothy Arnold who, he was confident, is alive.

While his father was engaged in a series of conferences with the Arnold family and counsel today, the son stayed with his mother at an apartment hotel all forenoon practically in a state of siege. The hotel had, at the request of the Griscoms, denied any communication with them by newspaper representatives. Meanwhile, a process server waited in the hotel corridor. He represented a Fifth Avenue haberdasher with a claim of $250 for goods said to have been purchased by Griscom five years ago.

Abandoning hope of serving the papers on Griscom in person, a blanket attachment was placed on all his baggage and he made the trip to Philadelphia with only the clothes he wore, excepting a few necessities bought on the way to the State. Father and son left the hotel in a taxicab together.

They dashed out of the building, slammed the taxicab door and whizzed away to the Pennsylvania station, where the younger man sought police protection from the persistent reporters.

The father returned to the hotel after seeing his son off, but refused to talk either of his son's movements or of the conference which he (the father) had had with the Arnolds. So far as I know," said Francis R. Garvan, of counsel for the family, after the conference, "the case stands just where it did the day Dorothy disappeared."

Asked point blank, "Will your son marry Miss Arnold?" the elder Griscom replied, "I know of no wedding."

John W. Arnold, a brother of Dorothy, said after the conference today that from now on the family would act without the aid and advice of lawyers. He would not say whether this move meant that the family was certain of her whereabouts.

DANVILLE, ILL., SENSATION.

Grand Jury Returned 216 True Bills for Vote Selling.

Danville, Ill., Feb. 10.—The grand jury today returned 216 true bills and adjourned until Monday. A large number of subpoenas were issued this evening returnable next week, when, it is believed, the real work of sifting the charges of political corruption will be commenced.

Among the indictments returned today were bills against City Attorney Frank W. Jones and Peter Saninchas, a Greek merchant, who are charged with perjury in connection with their testimony in the election inquiry. It was stated that several indictments were returned against vote sellers and at least one against a vote buyer, but the names will not be disclosed until the bench warrants are served.

An indictment containing 210 counts returned against H. H. Whitlock, former county treasurer, who is supposed to be in Detroit, charged him with embezzlement and malfeasance. An order was immediately telegraphed to Detroit for his arrest. His bail was fixed at $7,500 by Judge Kimbrough.

An indictment was also returned against Harry L. Freeman, clerk of the probate court, who was Whitlocks' chief clerk in the treasurer's office, charging him with accessory to embezzlement.

SEVENTEEN MINERS KILLED.

Caused by Explosion of Car of Powder at Trinidad.

Trinidad, Colo., Feb. 10.—Seventeen lives were lost in the explosion that wrecked the Corkdale mine of the Carbon, Coal & Coke Company last night. Tonight 15 bodies, including those of Assistant Superintendent E. A. Sutton and Robert Meek, rescuers, who lost their lives in the attempt to save others, have been brought to the surface.

The other two bodies have been located and will be removed before morning. It has been determined by Superintendent F. P. Bayliss that explosion of a car of blasting powder in charge of the shot firers caused the destruction. It is not known how the powder was ignited.

The damage to the property is small. All of the victims died from the effects of the afterdamp and none of the bodies were mutilated. With the exception of the two rescue men who perished, the victims were Poles and Italians.

THE REBEL LEADERS DISAGREE

Jealousy and Rivalry Between Blanco and Orozco Causes Dissension in the Ranks—The Mexico Situation.

Mexico City, Feb. 10.—The Mexican Central railroad has been repaired as far north as Ahumada, 83 miles below Ciudad Juarez, according to telegrams received by officials of the railroad today. It is said that the train service has been resumed to the border.

Confirmation of the jealousy and rivalry said to exist between Blanco and Orozco resulting from Tl Paso quoting one L. F. Espinoso, who was said to have passed several weeks in the rebel camps. Blanco is ambitious to be the leader of the revolution and both he and Orozco are anxious to pose as the head of the new republic they hope to establish. Espinosa is quoted as saying that among Blanco's men it is openly stated that Blanco himself would like to make himself military president of the republic. He is of the true revolutionary type. He is a law unto himself and acknowledges no one, least of all Francisco I. Madero.

For this reason Espinosa asserts, it seems impossible at the present time at least for Blanco and Orozco to make a union of their forces for an attack upon Juarez, or any other point of strength.

Torreton, Mexico, February 10.—An attack was made on a Mexican international train near Agua Naval today by the band which yesterday sacked Matamoros. The engineer refused to stop and the train ran the gauntlet of the rebel fire. Conductor E. H. Martinez, a Texas-Mexican was shot through the body. It is thougnt he will recover.

AMERICAN STUDENT MISSING.

New Yorker Studying Painting in Rome Mysteriously Disappears.

Rome, Feb. 10.—A general alarm has been sent out for Henry Lawrence Wolfe, of New York, a student of painting at the American Academy, who has been missing since last Monday afternoon. Wolfe is 35 years old. He is credited with being a man of good habits and temperament and his friends can advance no theory as to why he should have disappeared without leaving even an indication as to his destination.

There are some among the Americans who suggest the possibility of kidnappers or the blackhand being connected with the absence of Wolfe, but there is no evidence of any criminal act having been committed. Suicide is scouted by those who know Wolfe well.

The first information made public that Wolfe was missing came today from Frederic Crowninshield, director of the academy, who requested the police to prosecute a search for the student. This was begun immediately, but at a late hour tonight it had been without result.

Last Monday morning two of Wolfe's colleagues at the academy, Frank Fairbanks, a painter from Boston, and Albin Polasek, a sculptor, from Philadelphia, saw him in his studio. Afterwards he went to the vatican museum, returning to the academy for luncheon.

Immediately after luncheon Wolfe went to a bank to cash his pension amounting to $70, and also drew out $5 from his private account. Since then he has not been seen. Wolfe had been expected to dine at the academy in the evening and his absence caused surprise. Wolfe does not speak Italian. He is said by his colleagues to be a clean living and good hearted fellow, not at all given to quarreling, but perhaps somewhat easily taken in.

TO EXPLORE FOR POTASH.

Appropriation for This Purpose In Agricultural Bill.

Washington, Feb. 10.—An appropriation of $1,200 to authorize the Secretary of Agriculture to explore and investigate in this country for possible sources of potash, nitrates and other essentials of commercial fertilizers was incorporated today by the House in the agricultural appropriation bill.

The appropriation was suggested by Representative Lever, of South Carolina. He told the House that the American farmer was dependent almost absolutely upon the potash deposits of Germany. Recent difficulties encountered in getting potash from Germany make it very desirable that something be done. Mr. Lever said if depsits of potash or nitrates which are also imported are not to be found in this country it would be well to know it. If such deposits do exist, the report said, they would prove most valuable.

The vote in favor of the appropriation was overwhelming. Of the appropriation $2,500 is to be available immediately.

New Orleans, Feb. 10.—Out of respect to the memory of Abraham Lincoln, whose birthday anniversary falls on Sunday, the New Orleans Cotton Exchange will be closed tomorrow and Monday. The New Orleans board of trade will also pay tribute to the memory of the martyred President by remaining closed Monday.

WILMINGTON BILLS UP IN THE SENATE

Enabling Act for Election on Bond Issue for Port Terminals

THE LEGISLATURE YESTERDAY

Both Houses Occupied With Important State Measures—Recall Bill of Recorder's Court—Other Proceedings.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., Feb. 10.—Bills were introduced simultaneously in the Senate today by Bellamy, and in the House by Kellum, authorizing Wilmington to issue $200,000 bonds for acquiring wharf property for terminal facilities and other purposes.

The recall feature of the Wilmington Recorder's Court bill excited extended debate in the Senate, but the bill passed second reading.

Senator Bellamy's bill prohibiting shipping live coots and rice birds out of the State passed the Senate and was sent to the House.

The bill allowing officers of Wilmington and New Hanover to receive pay as witnesses in Superior Court, passed and was ordered enrolled.

Bills to prevent disorderly conduct on public roads of New Hanover county and making disorderly conduct at Delgado a misdemeanor, took the same course.

State Highway Bill.

The Sykes-Boyden Highway Commission bill is adopted for favorable report by the joint Committee on Roads and Turnpikes as a substitute for the Sykes bill to encourage road building in North Carolina, and the Boyden bill for Highway Commission and it is to have the combined strength of both bills in pressing passage through both Houses. A substitute bill adopted this evening provides for the State Highway Commission to have supervision of road building in the State; issues of State bonds, $200,000 every six months at 4 per cent. to be loaned to counties at 5 per cent, running 41 years with an automatic sinking fund to retire the bonds without cost to the State. There is machinery to enable the incorporated road districts and townships to avail themselves of this State aid separate and apart from the county units by election.

The committee decided to have the Spainhour bill for working State convicts on roads through district chaingangs revised by sub-committee and report it favorably later with changes that would leave the present county chain gang system intact.

Wilmington & Weldon Train.

February 20th, members of the Corporation Commission will go to Goldsboro for a hearing on the petition for extending the Norfolk to Goldsboro Shoo-Fly on to Wilmington.

Action Deferred on Salary Bill.

The Committee on Salaries and Fees reported a substitute for the bill increasing the salaries of the judges and Senator Hobgood moved to make it a special order for next Tuesday at noon. He withdrew the motion when Senator Barnes objected, on the ground that another bill is pending, increasing the number of judges from 16 to 20.

Extended Debate on Recall.

There was an extended debate on the recall features of the bill conferring civil jurisdiction on the Recorder's Court of New Hanover county by placing the Recorder on the recall and by increasing the pay of the officers of said court. Senator Bassett objected to the recall as a matter of principle, and thought it unwise to pass such a law. Senator Bellamy said the lawyers and others interested in New Hanover county were agreed on the bill, and urged its passage. Senator Brown regarded this as local legislation, and declared that if the people of Wilmington wanted it, he was in favor of it, or anything that might give them relief from present conditions. Senator Pharr was also opposed to the recall feature, but said he was willing to vote for this bill, and then no more of this kind during the session. He admitted Senator Barnes' charge of inconsistency, but felt that this particular measure ought to go through. Senator Graham moved to re-refer to the Judiciary Committee. Others who engaged in the debate were Senators Johnson, Thorne, Baggett and Martin, of Buncombe, and the motion to re-refer was lost, the bill passing second reading by a vote of 31 to 8. The aye and no vote having been called for by Senator Haymore, who opposed the bill.

Special Order—Near-Beer Bill.

The Committee on Propositions and Grievances reported favorably the Kent House bill prohibiting the sale of near-beer, with an amendment defining more clearly what preparations druggists may sell. After discussion the bill was set for special order next Tuesday at 12 o'clock, to give Senator Bassett time to prepare an amendment giving the right to sell cider. Senators Green and Barham said they were opposed to the bill, but wanted it disposed of as early as possible.

Routine.

The bills to incorporate Judson, Swain county, and create a new school district in Stokes county, were reported unfavorably.

The bills prohibiting coupons in cigarette and tobacco packages, relative to the appointment of guardians, and taxing dogs in Wayne county, were re-referred.

The Senate, at 1:35, adjourned until 11 o'clock Saturday.

In the Senate.

Raleigh, N. C., Feb. 10.—In the Senate an immense amount of work was done in clearing the calendar and in advancing bills on their readings today, nearly all, however, local measures. Senator Cotten's bill to provide the Torrens Land Title was reported favorably by the Committee on Agriculture and sent to the Committee on Judiciary.

The bill increasing the salary of judges received a favorable report from the committee on salaries and fees, but action was deferred. Dr. Kent's House bill prohibiting the sale of near-beer, beerine and other like drinks, was reported favorably with an amendment by the Committee on Propositions and Grievances, and was made the special order for next Tuesday at noon, to give Senator Bassett time to prepare an amendment relating to the sale of cider. The Senate received its usual daily quota of petitions against near-beer.

Senator Martin, of Washington, introduced a bill to establisn a State Fisheries Commission and protect the fisheries of the State, being a duplicate of the commission bill pending in the House. Senator Gardner introduced a bill to provide medals after 15 years' service in the State militia and exempting military men from civil or criminal liability for acts committed under orders.

Senator Boyden introduced a bill to provide for medical inspection of school children in towns having a population of 4,000 or over. Out of precaution it is being passed one reading a day only by roll call.

The joint resolution passed asking congressmen to support a parcels post bill.

MRS HILL SENT TO JAIL.

Divorced Wife of British Officer Convicted of Smuggling.

New York, Feb. 10.—As an example to women who have no qualms against smuggling, Judge Martin, in the criminal branch of the United States District Court today sentenced Mrs. Roberta G. Hill to the tombs from tonight until 8 o'clock Monday morning and fined her $2,000. The fine was promptly paid and Mrs. Hill was led away sobbing hysterically.

She is the daughter of Morris Menges, a well known Brooklyn horse man, and the divorced wife of Capt. James Hill, of the British army.

Counsel for Mrs. Hill made a strong plea for the court's mercy, but Judge Martin said that he felt that a jail sentence was necessary as a lesson.

"I regret to say," he added, "that women are much more prone to attempt smuggling than are men."

Mrs. Hill had pleaded guilty to smuggling into this country a sable coat and other goods valued at $8,000. Her mther sat near her during the proceedings and sobbed bitterly when sentence was pronounced.

BIG FIRE AT WADESBORO, N. C.

J. D. Horne and Liles Department Store Destroyed—Blockaders Probably Incendiaries—$100,000 Loss.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Wadesboro, N. C., Feb. 10.—Wadesboro suffered the most disastrous fire in its history this morning when one-half of one of the best business blocks was entirely destroyed and is a mass of smouldering ruins tonight with a total property loss of nearly $100,000.

To make matters worse the fire was apparently of incendiary origin and there is much uneasiness in the town. Several months ago two men with a wagon loaded with blockade whiskey were surrounded by a posse down near Pee Dee river on lands owned by J. D. Horne, of Wadesboro. The wagon team and whiskey was taken but after an exchange of shots the men escaped, although one of them was wounded. Later the revenue officers sold the wagon and team.

Recently rumors have reached here that Mr. Horne would suffer for his part of the affair and last Monday a stranger was seen repeatedly passing the Horne store and he bore a striking resemblance to one of the men wanted for the blockade whiskey affair.

For several nights Mr. Horne has had the store guarded and last night one of the employes walked around the store at 10 o'clock. The fire was discovered by the night police at 3 A. M. and in the rear of the Horne store. When discovered the store was filled with dense black smoke and the odor of oil was apparent.

Adjoining the Horne store are three store rooms occupied by the Liles Department Stores and filled with goods from cellar to roof. This concern does a jobbing business as well as retail.

Ventilators connect the cellar of these buildings with the Horne building and it was discovered that the Liles stores were so filled with smoke that men could not enter even to get the books.

In an hour the entire four store rooms were burned to the ground, but by magnificent effort the fire was confined to them, although other business establishments suffered heavy loss from damage by water.

The principal losers are J. D. Horne, building $6,000, stock $6,000; insurance on stock and building $5,000. The Liles Department Stores, stock, $60,000, insurance $30,000; James A. Hardison, building, $10,000, insurance $2,500. This building was recently remodeled at a cost of $2,500. Threadgill building $2,000, insurance $1,200; Blalock Hardware Company, damaged by water $500, covered by insurance; C. S. Wheeler, stock and machinery, $8,000, damage possibly covered by insurance of $1,000; Harmon Barber Shop, damaged $200, no insurance.

CUMBERLAND CITIZENS AROUSED

Protest Against Division of County.—Other Notes.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Fayetteville, N. C., Feb. 10.—A large number of representative citizens met at the Court House last night to take definite steps to oppose the Hoke county movement now pending before the General Assembly. The meeting was presided over by Mr. R. H. Dye, and was addressed by Hon. Chas. G. Rose, of Cumberland's representation in the House, who made a forcible and convincing speech. During his remarks he pointed out that should the county of Cumberland be dismembered it would doubtless become a Republican county, and would have only one representative in the General Assembly.

A committee of representative citizens was named to go to Raleigh and fight the bill, and they will remain in Raleigh until the matter is settled.

At a meeting of the Fayetteville Chamber of Commerce held last night, a resolution was adopted endorsing the Senate bill of Hon. A. H. Boyden, and the House bill of Hon. Ashley Horne, for the erection of a modern fireproof administration building for the State.

A final settlement of the estate of the late J. J. Nott, who died about twelve months ago at his place near here, has at last been reached. According to the terms of this agreement, which was arranged in this city by attorneys representing the various groups of heirs, after taking the deposition of C. Callard, Adams, expert genealogist, of Cromwell, Conn., three-fourths of the estate will go to the Nott-Gaylords, of Connecticut, and one-fourth to the Starrs, while two-thirds of the latter portion goes to the Starrs of Middletown, Conn., and one-third to the Starr blood of Fayetteville. The late Mrs. Fanny Johnson (nee Starr), of Wilmington, was among the last named group of heirs. The estate is variously estimated at from $50,000 to $100,000.

GOOD ROADS MOVEMENT.

Road Laws for Robeson and Duplin Counties—Campaign Earnest.

Just as we were ready to go to press Mr. A. J. Floyd handed us a copy of a bill, or rather a copy of the main provisions of a bill for a new road law, that is being drawn as the result of a conference held Monday night by Representative McPhaul in Lumberton with a number of representative men of the county. This bill, which comes too late for us to give to our readers, is a cross between the township system and the county unit system. It provides that the county shall be laid off into six districts and that the taxes collected in each district shall be spent upon the roads of that district. This district is No. 2 and embraces White House, Orrum and Sterlings townships. We regret that we cannot give detail of this proposed bill, as it seems to be the best solution of the road law of anything that has yet been offered.

(Kenansville News.)

The Good Roads Association met in the Court House Monday. A small crowd was present, as the day was inclement. In the absence of the president, Dr. John M. Faison was called to the chair. Quite a number spoke for good roads. Representative R. L. Carr was called on and made a talk before the Association. He explained the good roads laws put before the Legislature and promised to do anything in his power for Duplin county, and that all questions would be submitted to the people. Dr. Faison and Mr. Albert Oliver also spoke for active work in small territories, and the next meeting will be held at Faison on the second Wednesday in July. After two hours in session, the Association adjourned.

BRUNSWICK MAN KILLED.

Mr. Will Nance Shot by Mr. Dampsey, Potter, Formerly of Newbern.

(Southport News.)

On Saturday night of last week Mr. Will Nance, of Lockwood's Folly, this county, was shot and almost instantly killed by Mr. Dampsey Potter, who is a native of Newbern, but who was working with the Hammer Lumber Company at Little River, at the time of the tragedy and at which place it occurred.

It appears that the Messrs. Nance and two other gentlemen being under the influence of liquor, became engaged in a row with a negro in a store at Little River. By-standers got the negro out the back door, and the enraged party of whites soon left for a party which was going on at the home of Mrs. Thomas, about two miles distant. They arrived at the party in their then maddened state of mind and were using vulgar language in the home, and in the presence of the ladies, including Mr. Potter's wife and his mother-in-law. Mr. Potter it is stated, requested the Messrs. Nance to refrain from such language in the presence of the ladies—and if they would not do so leave the house.

Following this conversation Mr. Will Nance became still more pronounced in his language and flourished his knife about the room. Mr. Potter got his pistol and again insisted on Nance's leaving the house or sit down and be quiet, when Mr. Nance made for Mr. Potter with his open knife. At this point Mr. Potter fired two shots, both taking effect in the body of Mr. Nance. Mr. Nance fell on the spot and expired a few minutes afterward.

Mr. Potter surrendered to the authorities and is on bond.

FACE TERMS FOR FRAUD.

Five Prominent Men in Cincinnati Were Indicted.

Cincinnati, O., Feb. 10.—Facing prison terms with no alternative of a fine if convicted of fraud upon the city in connection with city paving contracts and other public works, five prominent men of this city were indicted by the Hamilton county grand jury.

Those indicted are John Sundmaker, public service director; H. F. Sipley, city engineer; A. J. Henkel, paving contractor, member of the firm of A. J. Henkel & Bro.; Conrad Henkel, a member of the same firm, and W. W. Coney, president of the Moores Coney Company, contractors and dealers in cement.

The indictments constitute the second report made this week by the grand jury in its probe of alleged public corruption. The first report was made Wednesday when six true bills were returned against Jacob Paschang, political leader and deputy collector of the Aiken Liquor Tax. Peschang is charged with having solicited bribes from saloon keepers in his administration of saloon license collection. In the true bills returned today, Service Director Sundmaker and City Engineer Shipley, are charged with "fraud by a superintendent of public works."

The specific charge is made that the contractors in paving work for the city, were permitted to substitute "slag" for what was supposed to be a high grade of cement. All indicted men issued statements denying the charges against them. They were released on bonds of $1,000 each.

COURT AT CLINTON.

One Negro Given 25 Years and Another 15—Lad Shot.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Clinton, N. C., Feb. 10.—In the Superior Court here today Joe Powell, who killed another negro named Lucien Dixon at a saw mill near here last week, submitted to a verdict of guilty of second degree murder without trial. He was sentenced to a term of 25 years' imprisonment in the penitentiary.

On yesterday Ed Stewart, a colored school teacher, was convicted of second degree murder for killing a pupil with a stick of wood in the school room. The pupil was a grown negro boy and fought the teacher who undertook to punish him for infraction of the rules. Stewart received a sentence of 15 years imprisonment in the penitentiary.

Herbert Southerland, a 12-year-old son of R. B. Southerland, a prominent business man here, shot himself accidentally while fooling with a 38-calibre pistol this afternoon. He was a student of the graded school and the shooting happened in a field just back of the school grounds. The ball entered the lower part of his body and passed entirely through him. His condition tonight is regarded as critical.

AGAINST FORTIFYING CANAL.

Former Secretary of State Declares Against Plan.

Boston, Mass., Feb. 10.—Richard Olney, former Secretary of State, who recently joined other leading men of the country in a declaration of reasons why the Panama Canal should not be fortified, in a statement made today indicated that he is unconvinced that any fortification was contemplated by the amended Hay-Pauncefote treaty.

"With all deference to the opinion of President Taft and others," declared Mr. Olney, "I am still of the opinion that the United States, much to its credit, has constituted itself trustee of this international waterway, and, as evidence of its good faith and sincerity, has stipulated that it will police the canal against lawlessness and disorder without reserving to itself the right to fortify the canal as if it were its own absolute property."

In a statement also made today John D. Long, former Secretary of the Navy, concerning the canal, says:

"I think that a naval force at each end of the Panama canal is the proper and sufficient protection, together with an adequate military garrison on shore. The extensive 'fortifications' suggested are not necessary. The danger is not from the large powers, but is from less responsible powers and irresponsible individual parties against whom the above protection would be sufficient and inded better adapted than the proposed fortifications."

TORPEDO BOATS ARRIVE.

In at Newbern From Charleston Navy Yard—Excite Interest.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Newbern, N. C., Feb. 10.—The torpedo boat Tingey reached port this afternoon and tied up beside the Delong, which came in earlier in the day. The boats came from the Charleston Navy Yard and are in command of Lieut. Commander Freeman, of the Reserve Torpedo Flotilla. They will remain here for several days during which the sister ship Dupont whose home port is Newbern will be inspected. The sight of three torpedo boats side by side in these waters is unusual. The Tingey and Delong came through the new inland waterway channel from Beaufort.

THE MORNING STAR

Published by the WILMINGTON STAR COMPANY, INC., Wilmington, N. C.

Entered as second-class matter at the postoffice at Wilmington, N. C., under Act of Congress, March 2nd, 1874.

Saturday, February 11, 1911.

Dr. Woodrow Wilson proposes the new principle of "publicity in politics." That surely would violate the rules of the game. Publicity would ruin politics.

"Stand by Petersburg," enjoins the Index-Appeal. Of course, we would do most anything for Petersburg, but we just have to keep right on going in order to keep up with Wilmington.

Lots of towns talk about getting in the "greater" list before they even get to be great. This refers to all towns which are so unfortunate as not to be in North Carolina.

It is timely to state that Secretary Balinger never has agreed to a truce with "Giff" Pinchot. Giff is still camping on the outside watching "Bal" break the record for "holding the fort."

Perhaps that anti-trust law with teeth" may not be able to do anything more than chew the rag with the trusts. The severest test of its teeth will come when it bites off more than it can chew.

"Coddling never cured a cold," a Kentucy doctor declares, according to the Louisville Courier-Journal. Nevertheless, Kentuckians know precisely what will cure a cold without consulting any doctor.

A New York man has been sued for a board bill covering a period of 26 years. If he still has his nerve with him, he may be able "to stand off" the judge with the same success that won with his landlady.

Speaking of Spring-like weather, a contemporary remarks: "These warm days make men feel like handling the garden hoe." Yes, but most of the scamps only want to handle it till they dig all the bait they want.

Says the Columbia State: "It is now disclosed that New Orleans spent only $15,000 in her endeavor to obtain the Panama Exposiion." New Orleans must have expected to find Congressmen on the bargain counter.

It is up to the people of Wilmington to make it a greater port. The government is giving the port a 30-foot channel, and we must provide the water terminals. They ought to be the best modern engineering can devise.

A bill is pending in the South Carolina Legislature for an appropriation of $10,000 to supplement $15,000 to be furnished by the railroads, for the purpose of advertising South Carolina. However, the method of advertising the State will differ considerably from that of Governor Blease.

Says the Savannah News: "One eighth of the students of the University of Wisconsin are suffering with the grippe, and the doctors say the disease has been spread there through kissing." In justice to those fellows, it must not be inferred that they had been kissing each other. No student would care to catch the grippe by stultifying himself.

In Washington on Thursday Juctice Wright sentenced a negro purse snatcher to a term of fifteen years in the penitentiary. He snatched a purse from a lady on the streets of Washington, and fifteen years is none too much for the highwayman who robs anybody, much less a lady who is without protection except that which the law throws around her. All purse snatchers should be given the extreme penalty of the law. The public will be the better off the longer the term.

SHIP SUBSIDY SCHEMING.

Probably the most interesting legislation pending in Congress is the Gallinger ship subsidy bill which has been tamed down to make it appear as a mail subsidy, the effect being the same, for the owners of steamships would get the subsidy on whatever pretext it may be paid. The Republicans are anxious to get the bill through at this session, as it is their last chance to make the government aid private business.

The need of encouraging the restoration of American merchant marine is recognized by both Republicans and Democrats, but opponents of the subsidy plan fail to see how such insignificant aid as a mail subsidy can possibly do any great shakes towards causing ships to be built, or new lines to be established. In fact, it is difficult for us to conceive how the subsidy plan is to build up the shiping interests of the country, as no capital will be put into ships just to get the subsidies. Indeed, it would appear that lines already in existence, and protected by the subsidy, would have the advantage over new lines without and government aid, and that it actually would deter ship building instead of encouraging it. If that would be the effect of subsidizing certain steamship lines, the subsidy would look more like a scheme to make a monopoly for the lines which are to get the subsidy. Certainly, established lines operating under a subsidy would have all the advantage over new steamships which would attempt to compete with them.

The Gallinger bill already has been passed by the Senate, but a special dispatch from Washington to the New York Journal of Commerce says the prospects are not so bright for it in the House. It is said "fresh subsidy trouble" was foreseen when it was unofficially announced that there would be no effort to amend the Gallinger bill, but that the plan now is for the bill to be "sneaked" through as early as possible. Therefore, it will be reported to the House without change. It is said this fact became known after a conference at the White House on Monday.

Opponents of the subsidy scheme are informed that the present plan is to let the bill "lie quiet" until within about six or eight days of the end of the session and then await a chance to pass it with unanimous consent when there are but few members in the House. Then, in case a recorded vote is called for, the effort will be to get the necessary number of Democrats to stay away from the session. "This is the scheme which has always been successfully worked," says the dispatch to the Journal of Commerce.

Information like that is astounding. It would seem that neither party would hope to be justified in passing any such important measure except upon its merits alone. Certainly, to "sneak" legislation through would give it the appearance of having somethisg wrong about it. In anticipation of some "dodge" it is said the Democratic leaders have checked over the members of their party and that they are of the opinion that not more than three or four will be susceptible to propositions of the kind indicated. It is said that if all other Democrats are held in line, the insurgents and some regular Republicans opposed to the bill will have an ample number of votes to defeat it.

Another "scheme" is said to lie in the Humphrey bill to give American registry to foreign steamships engaged in the fruit business between American ports and tropical cuntries. It is feared that a subsidy clause will be "sneaked" into it, and it is said that there are evidences that some plot like that is on foot. All this sounds queer, and if it is not true, the anti-subsidyites are seeing ghosts.

TERMINALS CREATE COMMERCE.

The Star has several times urged the importance of improved and modern pier, wharfage, and warehouse facilities along the harbor front, in connection with proper railway tremminals, as a factor in creating commerce. We have heretofore urged that the port which is best equipped for handling commerce through the Panama route will get the business. There is one thing sure, the port which does not have the facilities need not expect much of the business.

The plain policy of the Government, and a most reasonable one it appears, is to help those ports which help themselves. There would be little use to give any port a 30-foot channel unless it has the harbor terminals to handle maritime business on a 30-foot scale. As the government cannot give the channel and throw in the terminals, it requires, as a condition of appropriations, that adequate terminals shall be a consideration. Such terminals need not necessarily be furnished by municipalities, but they may be provided by railroads, terminal companies, industrial plants, private individuals or by cities themselves if not otherwise provided. The government doesn't care who provides the terminals so they are of a character to warrant the expenditure of government money to reach them by ships.

Wilmington may have two motives in seeking to better her terminals. The first is to make sure of the government's aid in the way of river and harbor improvements, and the second is the absolute certainty of increasing commerce by means of proper and adequate terminal facilities to handle it. No better object lesson in the latter consideration can be had than is afforded by the Seaboard Air Line's new terminals and warehouse facilities in Wilmington. Those terminals have added immensely to the shipping coming to the port, have greatly increased our import business, and have given a tremendous freight traffic to the railroads. That is not all. They are the means of furnishing raw materials to the great fertilizer manufacturing interests of Wilmington, so that this year will witness a tremendous increase of the products of the several factories here.

A 30-foot channel and modern terminal facilities will certainly do the business for Wilmington, because the splendid distributng facilites of the port already have been recognized, and will be even more significant when we have such water front terminals as the growing commerce of the port demands.

THE W. & W. TRAIN.

We confess to a selfish interest in the effort being made for additional train service on the Wilmington & Weldon railroad, but at the same time we maintain that we are clearly within our rights and in conserving our own interests we are serving the still larger interest of the patrons of the railroad company and the traveling public generally. The demand for this service has been insistent for some time and every effort has been made to secure the service without recourse to the Legislature or to the Corporation Commission, but every effort has been in vain.

It may be news to some people that a morning newspaper printed in the great seaport of Wilmington cannot now be delivered at a station in its own county, Castle Haynes, for instance, as early as a morning newspaper published more than a hundred miles away in another city not so entirely helpless in the way of schedules because of a demand for its rights at the hands of these public service corporations. But this is the smallest consideration in this fight for better passenger train service. Those who pay their good money for mileage and those who contribute to the freight revenues of this line of railway are entitled to some consideration at the hands of the railroad company.

An anonymous friend sends the Star a lengthy editorial from the New York Times, with the marginal note, "Worth Considering by the Press of North Carolina," extolling the advantages of "co-operation of the people with the railroads for mutual benefit." The late Mr. Harriman, realizing his shortcomings shortly before he died, is quoted in the editorial as saying, "I believe that the most important duty now confronting the management of the railroads of the country is the development of more friendly relations, and of a spirit of co-operation between the railroads and the country, and the railroads and the departments of the government, and for my part I mean to devote myself to that work." The railroads could do nothing to foster this friendly relation more than by providing adequate service and giving ear to the more reasonable requests made of them for service. The Wilmington & Weldon train, we consider, a case in point.

Canada has prospered under liberal and free trade relations and thousands of Americans have emigrated to that country. If the advantages were with a highly protected country, Canadians would come here instead of Americans going there.

The Philadelphia Press is gratified over "Frank J. Gould's announced intention to remain an American citizen." Of course, we are glad too, and in order to prove to him that we are his friend we advise him to keep his eyes skinned for all fellow citizens who would like to pull his leg.

Says the Greensboro Telegram: "Captain E. Briggs Baldwin, himself a scientific explorer and a man of high repute, has given out a statement on behalf of Doctor Cook to the effect that he can prove that the Doctor did reach the Pole." Baldwin may be all right up to this time, but why on earth should he take chances with his "high repute" in the face of all the prevarications told about the top of the world?

CURRENT COMMENT.

It will be Simmons vs. Kitchin in the Senatorial contest two years hence and "guns are already being primed" for this impending contest.—Winston Republican.

Last year the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad settled two thousand five hundred families along its lines in Florida. Florida increased 42 per cent. in population between 1900 and 1910. South Carolina increased 13 per cent. The Coast Line settled those families in Florida and Florida increased 42 per cent. in population simply because immense land companies advertised Florida in periodicals and farm journals throughout the East and West. They went after the people and got them.—Columbia State.

An American seems to have made the first signally successful attempt to carry a message in an aeroplane to an army in the field and return to his place of starting. This was done the other day in California by the aviator Harkness, who flew some 32 miles. Such a flight would insure a safe passage over hostile lines or into a beleaguered city and a return to his own forces in the field. There is no reason, however, why the same success should not attend a flight of 100 miles each way, and it is now, very probably, within the power of almost every first-class army in the world to dispatch such couriers of the air.—Columbia State.

Even Vermont felt the push of reciprocity. Answering the anticipatory howls of the Vermont standpatters since the negotiation of a trade agreement with Canada, the Springfield Republican prints the census returns of the value of lands and buildings, implements, and live stock, from 1850 to 1890 inclusive, showing that during the life of the reciprocity treaty—1855 to 1866—there was a steady advance in values. Shrinkage began with the rebuilding of tariff walls. There is a tendency toward decay and depopulation which will probably become more marked as time flies. There is a protection that kills, both on land and sea.—Philadelphia Record.

The Wilmington Star says: "Greensboro ought to quit keeping Raleigh awake at night about moving that State capitol. It makes Raleigh anxious to anchor the State capitol building by surrounding it with administration buildings. Greensboro ought to be satisfied with being the 'Gate City,' the 'Convention City,' and with having an auditorium that breaks all municipal hearts in North Carolina." Greensboro is willing for Raleigh to keep the capitol and that the new administration building be speedily erected. We are too busy here building a city along other lines to waste any more time joking Raleigh about taking the capitol from her.—Greensboro News.

The arrangement by which an American syndicate headed by J. P. Morgan was to fund the foreign debt of Honduras and the United States government was to guarantee the payment of the same, has been interrupted. A formidable revolt threatents the very existence of the Davila regime and the government, the stability of which the United States would have had to virtually guarantee in order to render the financial agreement operative. At the same time the Honduran Congress has refused to ratify the Morgan arrangement. The United States Senate has not yet ratified the pact, and there is no likelihood that it will do so at the present session. Secretary Knox's policy of interference in the affairs of Central America appears to be by no means an unqualified success.—Baltimore Sun.

General Julian S. Carr, Representative from Durham county in the General Assembly, made yesterday in the House what is easily the best speech of his life. It was eloquent, it was earnest, it was patriotic. It appealed to the heart and to the mind. His speech was in advocacy of the erection of a monument in the Capitol Square to the Women of the Confederacy, the bill he introduced for this providing for the expenditure of $10,000. In his splendid speech he paid high tribute to the noble women of the Confederacy, telling of their devotion and of their love for the Cause for which the men of the South fought and died. His argument and his eloquent oratory made a deep impression upon all who heard him. There is high praise paid him on all sides because of the splendid speech made.—Raleigh News and Observer.

Senor Caruso, the tenor, has in his pocket a three-year contract under the terms of which he is to receive $2,200 for each of 100 performances a year. That probably marks the limit of high honorariums for operatic singers. (It should be borne in mind that laborers get wages, clerical people get salaries and artists receive honorariums). It is such facts as this that the amusement man gets twice the money in one day that the average skilled worker with hand or brain, or both, can earn in a year, which sink the iron of bitterness into the hearts and souls of millions of toilers who live clean lives but whose noses are perpetually on the grindstone in the effort to provide sustenance for their families. Caruso is but a brilliant bubble on the flowing bowl of extravagance; yet his pay per night equals that of two producing workers for a year.—Savannah News.

DEATH OF LITTLE GIRL.

Funeral of Georgie Estelle Brinkley at Watha, N. C., Thursday.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Watha, N. C., Feb. 10.—The Death Angel visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Brinkley Wednesday night, February 8th, and took their little daughter, Georgie Estelle, aged six weeks. She staid on earth long enough to cause many hearts to feel broken with her passing. Her remains were brought to Watha Thursday and will be buried at Mt. Holly Church Friday A. M., at 11 o'clock.

LIFE NOT WORTH LIVING.

the way Miss Alta Abel, West Baden, Ind., summed up her existence after having sought in vain for health. She writes, "I was a complete wreck—always tired, worn out and nervous. I had to spend about one-third of my time in bed and my life was not worth living.

Vinol, your delicious cod liver and iron tonic, was recommended, and I can truly say it has done me more good than all the medicine I ever took in my life. That nervous and tired feeling is all gone. I have gained in health, flesh and strength, until I feel like another person." (We guarantee this testimonial to be genuine.)

What Vinol did for Miss Abel, we know it will do for every nervous, run-down, overworked, tired, thin and discouraged woman in this vicinity.

Try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that your money will be returned if it does not help you. Robt. R. Bellamy, Druggist, Wilmington, N. C.

VETERANS WILL MEET HERE

Confederate Soldiers of State Will Gather in Convention Here in August—Plans for Entertainment Discussed.

At a largely attended meeting last night of Cape Fear Camp, No. 254, United Confederate Veterans, with the commander, Gen. James I. Metts, presiding, and Adjutant L. Leon at his post, mention was made of the fact that the State organization has been invited to hold its reunion and convention in this city this year, and members were reminded that they will be expected later to enter heartily into the arrangements for the entertainment of the visitors.

The last reunion and convention was held in Norfolk, Va., at which time Gen. Jas. I. Metts, of this city, extended an invitation to hold the next meeting in Wilmington. The invitation was accepted and the veterans in all parts of the State are looking forward with much pleasure to the meeting to be held in this city. The indications are that the attendance will be between 1,000 and 2,000, probably nearer the latter figure. The veterans will be greeted with the true Southern hospitality and it can be safely said that nothing will be left undone that would tend to make their sojourn enjoyable. All Wilmington will join the veterans of the local camp in their entertainment of the visitors. The meeting will be held some time in August and there is ample time yet in which to formulate the plans, but it was thought best to bring the matter to the attention of the camp last night so that the members may have the matter under consideration and make suggestions as to arrangements at some future meeting during the next few months, when committees will be appointed to have charge of the details.

The Camp heartily endorsed the resolution of the Daughters of the Confederacy as adopted at their convention in Little Rock, Ark., protesting against the erection of the monument proposed to perpetuate the memory of the women of the notable struggle, on the ground that the monument as proposed does not truly represent the women of the South.

One new member was received and the usual routine business was transacted, the meeting adjourning about 9 o'clock.

COLLECTOR'S EXPERIENCE.

Light Fingered Gent Went Through Pockets While They Walked.

Mr, B. J. Cox, a collector for the Behrends-Ziegler Furniture Co., on South Front street, had a most unusual experience yesterday afternoon and one that nearly cost him a neat little sum of money. Mr. Cox had started out on a collection trip of the city and on Castle street met a stranger of neat appearance and pleasing address, who engaged him in conversation for a short time and then walked a short way with him on his rounds. The stranger asked Mr. Cox if he were not a collector and being informed that he was, grew quite "chummy" but finally excused himself and departed down the street. Mr. Cox had gone about four blocks when he discovered that while the conversation was in progress his pockets had been rifled and when he took a look, found that everyone of them was turned wrong side out and that everything they contained was missing. Fortunately Mr. Cox had left his personal pocket change at home and had made no collections for the firm, but he was "shy" his pocket knife, a few papers, some keys and a pocket piece of tobacco. He was very much disconcerted at the very neat way in which the slick-fingered gent had turned the trick and though he has no clue to the stranger, he would recognize him again on sight and is exceedingly desirous of that pleasure.

FUNERAL OF MR. SHOLAR.

Services Held From the Late Residence Yesterday Afternoon.

The funeral of Mr. Alex. M. Sholar, whose death occurred suddenly Thursday at noon, was held frm the late residence, No. 410 South Fifth street, at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon in the presence of a large concourse of sorrowing relatives and friends. The services were conducted by Rev. Dr. J. H. Foster, pastor of the First Baptist Church, of which the deceased was a member, assisted by Rev. G. T. Adams, pastor of Fifth Street Methodist Church. There were many beautiful floral designs, which bore silent testimony to the high esteem in which Mr. Sholar was held by his many friends in this city. The interment was in Oakdale cemetery. The pallbearers were Messrs. Wilbur Dosher, W. H. Schaefer, LeRoy LeGwin, Alex. Dock, John T. Sholar and H. S. McGirt.

Spoke to Pupils of Union School.

Capt. Earl I. Brown, United States Engineer in charge of this district, Thursday at noon addressed the puplis of Union graded school, who are pursuing the study of geography, on the development and deepening of the Cape Fear river and its channels, which was heard with unusual interest. Capt. Brown also spoke of the proposed inland waterway route. The address was made at the request of the school authorities and was generally commented upon as being a practical and able effort, and will no doubt arouse greater interest among the pupils in the waterways of this section.

SEEK FOR ANOTHER MOTIVE

Many Witnesses Summoned by State in Attempt to Prove Plot to Take Life of Young Floyd—Hayes' Home Searched.

There continues to be much interest in this section of the State and upper South Carolina in the shooting to death last Saturday evening at Mount Tabor of Robt. M. Floyd by Mrs. N. M. Hayes and the subsequent arrest of Mrs. Hayes, her husband and his 14-year-old brother on a charge of conspiracy to murder the young man, and in the preliminary trial set for Tuesday at Whiteville.

Mrs. Hayes, who was Miss Harrell, before her marriage, is said to have a brother in Wilmington, in the employ of the Atlantic Coast Line. Many persons here are well acquainted with all the parties concerned in the affair. It has been reported here that there is a probability of effort being made to secure L. Clayton Grant, Esq., of this city, to aid in the prosecution of the defendants. When asked about the report yesterday Mr. Grant admitted that he had been approached indirectly to appear with the prosecution, but stated that he had not been retained in the case as yet.

The Conway, S. C., correspondent of the South Carolina daily papers Thursday visited Mount Tabor, the scene of the shooting, and the following from his article will be read with interest, as it gives some information which had not heretofore been published:

"Up until noon today 22 witnesses had been bound over by the State, and, judging by the activity of the relatives of the slain man, still more witnesses may be summoned.

"All of the witnesses live in and around Tabor and they have been summoned, it is learned, in an attempt to prove a motive for the killing other than the statements made by Mrs. Hayes and to implicate in the horrible affair others whom Mr. Floyd's relatives and friends claim were parties to a plot to get him to Tabor and take his life.

"One with no knowledge of the killing would be impressed on arriving at Tabor with the idea that some great calamity had befallen this quiet but busy little town. Notwithstanding the fact that it has been five days since the occurrence and the subsequent removal of the prisoners to Whiteville, Tabor is yet all astir over the occurrence.

"Groups are gathered here and there, discussing the tragedy, each comparing rumors and theories with the other in an effort to solve the mystery surrounding the tragic death of young Floyd.

"The Hayes home is situated only a few feet back from the sidewalk of a broad open side street and only about 200 yards from the main street of the town. Within forty feet of the house on either side are other dwellings, one being a hotel which on the night of the killing was well filled with guests.

Hayes' barber shop is only about 100 yards from his home. One standing at the front of the shop has an unobstructed view of the Hayes' home.

"The house is a four room dwelling, a hall running between the two rooms on each side. The hall opens by a door on the front porch, which door Mrs. Hayes in her testimony stated was locked.

"The door in her bed room, which she states that Floyd entered, is several feet down the hall to the right. Floyd's hat was hung on a rack on the left wall of the hall beyond the bed room door.

"The bed to which Mrs. Hayes states Floyd forced her stands in the extreme right hand corner of the room, but to the left of the bed room door.

"Mrs. Hayes' retreat backwards followed by Floyd, as she states in her testimony, carried her the width of a room through a door into the hall, the length of this hall, through the front door and across about ten feet of porch, Floyd having been found at the extreme front of the porch with one foot out on the top step.

"Those who saw Mr. Floyd before he was moved state that his form lay in such a position that anyone returning to the hall would be forced to go over his prostrate form. Mrs. Hayes' statement is that she fell out of the door ahead of Mr. Floyd and that she afterwards returned to the house and secured another pistol and shot him again in the head.

"Yesterday afternoon a thorough search was made of the bed room of the Hayes home in which the shooting is stated to have occurred.

"The carpet was removed from the floor and two bullets were accounted for. One, a lead bullet, was found lodged in the sill under the floor, the course of the bullet being a downward slant, indicating that it came from the direction of the hall door to the bed room.

"Another bullet had plowed through the top of the floor at such a slant as to pass out through the window sash several feet from the floor. This bullet could not be found, but was evidently fired from the same place as the other.

"Hayes bought a number of steel bullets from a local hardware dealer about ten days ago, stating at the time that he wanted his wife to practice with his new automatic. Next door neighbors have frequently since then seen Mr. and Mrs. Hayes target practicing with this pistol in their back yard.

"Floyd had been gone from the barber shop only about 15 minutes when the shooting occurred. During that time he had taken his horse to a nearby livery stable and had made inquiries beyond the Hayes home as to where the house was, Mr. and Mrs. Hayes having moved to their present home only since January 15. They moved to Tabor during December but occupied another house than this one till the 15th of January.

"Leaving a brother of Mr. Floyd in Whiteville the dead man's father, M. T. Floyd, and a brother, Herbert Floyd, spent the morning in Loris, Mr. and Mrs. Hayes' old home, and came on to Conway this afternoon. It is understood that Robt. B. Scarborough, of Conway, will be employed to aid in the prosecution.

"The father of the deceased stated to your correspondent that each day he grows more firm in his belief that a scheme was laid for his son and that he grows all the more determined to see the matter pushed to the last ditch."

MR. J. HAL BOATWRIGHT.

A Tribute of Appreciation.

The teacshers, officers and pupils of the Sunday School of the Good Shepherd, in this first meeting of the school since the death of our beloved and lamented superintendent, Mr. J. Hal. Boatwright, desire to place on record a word of appreciation of one whose life has been largely spent in the service of this Sunday School for nearly forty years, with a devotion to duty singularly beautiful and joyful; for his service in the Sunday School as superintendent, and in the parish as Lay Reader and trustee was in very truth a labor of love, robbed of its sense of labor by a high consciousness of the privilege of working for the Master whom he loved with a man's affection, but in the simple, trustful faith of a child.

Mr. Boatwright began his work for the Good Shepherd, when the work was yet in its infancy and while he was in the fresh vigor of his young manhood, setting thus a splendid example of early consecration of young manhood in its strength; and it was his privilege to see the work grow from its simple beginning through all the stages of its increasing usefulness.

On the last night before he was called from us, he met with the Building Committee, of which he was a member, to decide upon the plans for the new church edifice, soon to be erected by the Parish of the Good Shepherd. Thus he lived to see his work crowned with abundant success and to add his approval to the plans which are but the culmination in large part, of his faithful services.

It is with sad hearts that we note the place now vacant which has been so constantly filled for a generation; yet, it is with a sense of gratitude to God for the privilege of his service and with grateful recognition of his life of usefulness to this whole community.

"Be thou faithful unto death and I will give thee a crown of life."

Resolved: That a copy of this minute be placed in the permanent records of the Parish and a copy be sent to the bereaved family, whose sorrow must be lessened by the blessed memory of this useful life.

Resolved: That this minute be published in the local papers and in The Carolina Churchman.

MR. HILLES WAS PLEASED.

Assistant Secretary of Treasury Writes of Wilmington Visit.

Mr. C. D. Hilles, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, who was a distinguished visitor to the city last Sunday, has written a personal letter to Mr. B. F. Keith, expressing great pleasure at his stay here and calls Wilmington "one of the fairest cities of the South."

Mr. Hilles was guest of Collector Keith and was shown over the city by several prominent business men, arriving here Sunday morning on the revenue cutter Yamacraw from Charleston, S. C., and leaving by train for Washington that evening. Mr. Hilles took especial notice of the Custom House here and upon his return to Washington promptly wrote Congressman John M. Morehead in regard to the additional appropriation of $200,000 which is desired in addition to the appropriation already secured. He urged Mr. Morehead to go before the Appropriation Committee of Congress and ask that the $200,000 be included in the Sundry Civil bill at this session. Mr. Hilles commented at length while here on the need of a new Custom House and also about temporary repairs to the present building. Collector Keith has also received a letter from Mr. Morehead in regard to the Custom House matter as directed by Mr. Hilles and this letter stated that the Assistant Secretary was particularly pleased with his visit here.

In referring to the pleasure of his visit here and the splendid climate, Mr. Hilles said: "I write to thank you and friends for the fine entertainment given me while in your city. It was a beautiful day and the air was a tonic. With such fine roads, and the sea breeze and pine trees, you are indeed in one of the fairest cities of the South.

CAR LOAD OF BUGGIES.

Brunswick is Right Up With Procession—Shipment to Mr. White.

Along with good roads the people must have vehicles to negotiate the highways with safety and dispatch. No county in the State has made more progress in the building of good roads than Brunswick and still greater things are in contemplation. To meet present and future needs commend us to Mr. Franklin P. White, of Shallotte. He is right along with the procession and by rail this week there came to him for transhipment by water a car load of fine buggies, which will be delivered at his place of business within the next week or ten days. The big shipment of "joy riders" came in care of Mr. J. W. Brooks, of this city, who operates extensive steamer and sharpie lines to the Shallotte territory and very soon they will be loaded upon sharpies and forwarded to Mr. White. These are the finest buggies Mr. White could buy and without a doubt they will find immediate, ready sale in prosperous and progressive Brunswick.

Ministers Are Invited.

The Bijou management always does the clever thing. So it asks The Star to extend to the ministers of the city and their families an invitation to attend their theatre either this afternoon or tonight and witness the wonderful Biblical film, "The Deluge." All the ministers and their families, no matter how large the latter, will be entertained as guests of the management.

COMMISSIONERS OF STREETS

Regular Semi-Monthly Meeting Yesterday—Street Improvements Discussed, But No Action—Engineer's Report.

The Commissioners of Streets in regular semi-monthly session yesterday afternoon devoted considerable time to a discussion of a suggestion of Commissioner Wm. E. Worth, who urged that preliminary steps be taken without further delay for improving the streets in the downtown districts as decided upon some time ago, but held in abeyance at the instance of a large number of abutting property owners and the Board of Aldermen on the ground that the work should not be done until the pipes for the new sewerage system have been put down.

In submitting his suggestion Mr. Worth said that he had come to the conclusion that the commission might as well proceed to do something on the streets as to sit idle, and that he was sorry that he did not see the matter in this light some weeks ago when the commission agreed to hold up the work at the request of the citizens and the Aldermen. It is evident to all that the streets are a disgrace to the fair City of Wilmington and the commission charged with the responsibility of their improvement, he said, and asserted that he was fully satisfied that there would be no change in the present form of government, but if there was any change it would not take place in several months and the time intervening could be used by the commission in getting the street improvements underway. He declared that whether any portion of the present sewerage plant is purchased or not, the Wilmington Sewerage Company will not take up its pipes now in the ground; that after diligent inquiries he had learned that the plans of Hazelhurst & Anderson for the new system provide for the same size of pipe now used by the existing company on all the streets proposed to be improved first, according to a former decision of the commission, with the exception of six blocks, therefore, the streets in the territory proposed to be improved first, would not have to be torn up for the purpose of putting down new pipes.

Chairman Louis Belden asked Mr. Worth if his company, the Wilmington Sewerage Company, was willing to sell any portion of its plant without selling it all, to which Mr. Worth replied that he was not in a position to say what the bondholders would do. Capt. Belden then reminded Mr. Worth of the action of the Board of Aldermen and Board of Audit and Finance in declining to buy the system and in instructing the Water and Sewerage Commission to proceed with the installation of a new system, and added that in carrying out this order the commission would have to tear up the streets to put down the new pipes. Mr. Worth having stated in response to a question that his sewerage system extended only to Tenth street, Captain Belden suggested that the improvements of the streets might begin at 11th street, as the people in that section are just as much in the city as any portion of the town and should be given some consideration.

Commissioner Heyer took the position that inasmuch as the commission had not begun the street improvements in the several months it has had the money at its disposal, that it would be unwise to commence now, just a few months before the term of the present commissioners expire and with the prospects of a new form of government at the end of that time. Captais Belden reiterated his suggestion that work begin at 11th street, and then Mr. Heyer suggested that the commission might lay brick on Red Cross street, as this could be easily be taken up when it becomes necessary to do so to lay the sewer pipes. Mr. Worth stated here that he understood that the plans for the new system did not provide for lateral connections.

Commissioner Parsley said that he considered himself a visitor at the meeting as he had tendered his resignation to the Board of Aldermen. Some one reminded him that the Aldermen would not accept his resignation and Mr. Parsley said that he would insist upon favorable action at the next meeting. Then he said what he set out to say, that he thought Mr. Worth's proposition all wrong and he gave his reasons for his position. He referred to the fact that the term of the present commissioners expires in May; that the chances are that a new form of government will be adopted for the city; that in the event there is no change in the form of government there is no telling who will be the next commissioners; that it would take most of the time remaining to decide on what work to be done, advertise for bids and let the contracts, so that the work would just about be started good when the new commissioners came in, or the new form of government became effective; that it would not be right to make such contracts so near the expiration of the commissioners' term of office and leave the execution to their successors. Captain Belden agreed with Mr. Parsley as to the improvements of the streets in the down town district, but did not see why the commissioners could not begin work on streets which would not be affected by the sewerage system, either the present plant or the one in contemplation.

Commissioner Worth said that he had overlooked the fact that the term of office of the present commission expires in May of this year and as this was the case it would probably be better not to further consider the matter of street improvements. City Engineer Humphreys suggested that there were ten blocks in the southern section of the city, not touched by the present sewerage system and will not be reached by the new, which might be improved with the gravel pavement. This could be done for about $8,000 and the improvement is badly needed. Mr. Heyer suggested that MacRae street, from Nixon to Rankin, be improved instead, a distance of seven blocks. Mr. Worth made the point that if the commission undertook improvements in the outlying districts and leave the streets down town in their present conditon they would be severely criticised.

There was no further discussion, as it was evident that the members of the commision could not get together on any proposition to begin the street improvements. Mr. R. H. Brady, the other member of the commission, was present but did not take part in the discussion.

Engineer's Report.

The following report of City Engineer C. R. Humphreys dated January 26th, was read by Clerk J. F. Gause and ordered spread on the minutes:

"Pursuant to a resolution adopted in your meeting of January 13th, instructing me to make a distribution of the engineering expenses of your commission, I respectfully report as follows:

"I have separated the expenses into seven columns headed respectively, profiles, street monuments, maps, engineering supplies, engineering instruments, office furniture, and general. Under each head is the total expense of that part of the work. Under the head of general, appears all other expenses such as preparing specifications, contracts, furnishing grades, and inspecting drains, grades for sidewalks, grades and superintending the new work on Third, Sixth and Wright streets, work connected with the Sixth street bridge, attending meeting of the Street Commissioners, interviewing paving contractors, etc.:

"Profiles, $1,209.02; street monuments, $1,157.79; maps, $123.83; engineering supplies, $35.23; engineering instruments, $484.56; office furniture, $25.75; general $311.60.

"I have an inventory of the engineering instruments and office furniture and these articles will be turned over to your commission at the completion of the work.

"All street profiles are complete and are on file, and all street monuments will be set in place by the middle or latter part of February. At that time all assistants will be disposed of.

"The remaining work to be done is the erection of Sixth street bridge. The time set for completion is March 1st, but I do not believe the bridge will be finished on time. Also the paving on Wright street. The time set for the completion of this work is March 18th, though I believe this work will be finished by March 1st. At the end of this work, my services will not be necessary unless new work starts up.

"From an engineering standpoint the Street Commission is ready and has been ready for several months past to commence paving, as it was unnecessary to complete all the past work before commencing paving. Now, however, at the completion of about 30 days' work, the city will be in possession of all information, such as surveys, specifications, etc., so that contracts can be let for paving in any part of the city at any time."

CLAY FOR NEW HANOVER.

Negotiations for Two Hundred Car Loads Now in Progress.

The following from this week's issue of the Pender Chronicle, published at Burgaw, will be read with interest:

"Mr. Humphrey, of Wilmington, the Union Brick and Tile Co., in reference to letting a contract for 200 car loads of clay to be used in New Hanover for road constructing.

"In New Hanover there is plenty of sand but little or no clay. It has been found by continued experiment that the sand-clay is the best, most durable, easiest repaired and most ideal of all modern roads. Besides this it cost less and if properly built and maintained will last through all kinds of weather and remain permanent longer than any other type. It is also much better on the rolling stock as well as the team.

"Surely if New Hanover can afford to haul clay 22 miles we can afford to mix it when it is all around us! It requires only one trip from Ingoll to Garland or around Clinton to convince the most skeptical of the marvelous changes that sand-clay roads bring about.

"With two hundred miles of modern highway Pender county, as Mr. Varner says, will become the bright star of the East."

The sale of seats for "The Climax" Monday night's big attraction for the Academy, will go on sale this morning at Plummer's. Indications are that the sale will be large, because the event will be one of the notable ones of the season nd it will be recalled that the appearance of "The Climax" in Wilmington last season was pronounced brilliant and has been lovingly remembered ever since. The company that will appear in the performance here will be a New York one, presented by no less a distinguished manager than Lew Fields himself.

Edward Locke, the author of "The Climax", has sprung with one bound from obscurity to fame. The remarkable success achieved by his great play last season, has ranked him among the leading dramatists of the day. There has been no other drama produced in a half decade which has met with so much favor as "The Climax." The great success of the piece is due to the simplicity of its theme, its sparkling humor, its romantic environments and dramatic intensity. The story deals with the trials of a young woman who is struggling for operatic aspirations.

"The Yankee Girl."

Everybody seems to be cognizant of the fact that Blanche Ring and her Yankee Girls are coming to the Academy next Tuesday, judging from the air of activity at the advance sale and the healthy and prosperous smile of the young man behind that seems to pervade the surrounding atmosphere and indicates that charming comedienne's visit is well timed.

There is said to be something rather satisfying about "The Yankee Girl" aside from its clever star, and that is the excellent character studies and the well drawn dramatic conceptions in the little Latin Republic on the Isle of Brilliantina, at times it doesn't seem like comic opera, so faithfully are they sketched and so well portrayed and it makes the auditors take the piece more seriously, and proves such an excellent foil for the comedy that both lends a zest to the other, then Miss Ring's infectious songs are so nicely interlaced and so well timed that a very even balance of good entertainment is preserved throughout and a very satisfying evening is afforded to those who sit in front.

Miss Ring will no doubt receive a right royal welcome on her appearance here, as she has many personal friends in this city.

Seats will go on sale at Plummer's Monday morning.

At the Bijou.

One of the biggest moving picture programmes not only ever offered in Wilmington, but ever offered anywhere, and probably the biggest of all for the small price of five cents admission, will be presented to the amusement-loving public today. It will come, too, as the result of alertness and enterprise on the part of the management of the Bijou Theatre, because there is where this really extraordinary offering in moving pictures, will be made. This notable event will be headed by presentation of the greatest of all Biblical stories in moving picture, "The Deluge," which will present the Bible history vividly, convincingly and beautifully of the scenes preceding the flood and of the great flood itself. It was thought that when the Pathe Company gave to the world the moving pictures of the "Passion Play," which both startled and impressed, that there would never be another Bible story told in motion pictures that would compare with it. However, the makers of "The Deluge" have not only equalled it, but have surpassed it, and it cost a small fortune to make the picture, as an entire zoo population has to be pressed into service in order to give a correct representation of the animals entering the ark. At the time of the great multitude engaged in riotous living, the pictures commence and show Noah and his two sons building the ark, the animals, elephants, tigers, donkeys, goats and two of every kind entering the ark, the thrilling, awe-inspiring deluge and inundation of the city, the mighty waters and the tossing of the ark, the sending forth of the dove, the landing and the glorious thanksgiving offered to the Almighty. There is nothing trite about the pictures. They are mighty in impressiveness and will teach a wonderful lesson. The pictures have received the approval of ministers and church-goers, who witnessed them before they were placed on the market, although they were only made Tuesday of this week. The Bijou had placed an order for the pictures weeks ago, regardless of cost, and so Wilmington people will get an opportunity of seeing the wonderful "Deluge" at the same time folks in New York are witnessing the pictures.

"The Deluge" is a remarkable picture for the children to see and the film will be presented all this afternoon as well as tonight, and the admission, as always, will be only five cents.

"The Deluge" is only the feature of the programme. There will be the regular illustrated song and other films including a big Biograph, "Heart Beats of Long Ago," which is indeed beautiful.

Crystal Palace.

The vaudeville this week has been appreciated very much by large audiences; the Misses Kincaid & Stanley being a sister team of rare entertaining ability, Mr. Younkin an excellent juggler and performer with his novel tricks and D'Auldin and Fritz appearing, first in their sword swallowing feats, and now in a fire eating act—something that has not been seen here previously this season. There have been a number of requests for the young ladies to repeat the songs rendered the early part of the week, and they will, therefore, sing today "Come on Play Ball With Me, Dearie," but retain the other three new selections, i.e., "Bugs," "Good Bye Girlie," and "Be a Lady." The pictures will include a splendid feature firm, "Looking Forward," and "Tweedledum in Tragedy," and "The Tell Tale Portrait." Doors open Saturday night at 7:30. Regular matinees.

Grand Theatre.

The big day is here again and weather permitting, the "Theatre Beautiful" will do a record breaking business. Saturday seems to be "Laugh Day," and Grandites will certainly be supplied with plenty of variety as today's programme embraces a little of everything in the way of motion pictures. The feature film today is "The Curse of the Red Man." This is one of the very latest pictures and is full of beautiful scenery. "The Life of the Salmon," will be found very interesting and educational, while "Amateur Night," will send you out laughing. Still another great film is "The Little Mother," which will please the children immensely, and as a rule there is a large attendance of little ones in the afternoon. Mr. Morgan will sing a jolly good song entitled, "Kate Kearney," and the orchestra has as usual a fine programme. Doors open at 11 A. M.

Joyland.

There will be an all-star programme on at this popular little theatre today, one that will please the large Saturday crowds. Now those who have not seen Joyland since it reopened will have a chance today to see how pretty it looks with a full house and its newly decorated interior. First there will be "The Master's Command," as presented by the Reliance All-Star Stock Company. Next will be a powerful Italian drama that will prove very interesting to all who see it. Mr. Reilly, the Wilmington boy, will hand out a few ditties at the last performance.

No Session of Court Yesterday.

There was no session of the Recorder's court yesterday. The only case on the docket for trial was continued on account of the absence of the prosecutor, Mr. J. J. Hopkins. The defendant is Boy Mitchell, colored, who is charged with the larceny of sausage casing from Mr. Hopkins. When arrested Thursday the negro was recognized for his appearance at trial and was present yesterday morning. The case having to be continued and the defendant not being able to give bond, he was committed to jail until today's session of court.

DYING FAST IN CHINA.

Urgent Appeal For Aid for Stricken People in Orient.

Washington, Feb. 10.—Unless relieved two million people in China will die of starvation. This is a calamity predicted by American Consul General Wilder at Shanghai in a cablegram received from him today by the American National Red Cross Society.

The Consul General appeals for quick assistance for the suffering people and says that a half million dollars is needed immediately. There will be no crops until the end of next May and Chinese relief is inadequate, he adds.

In describing the pitiful conditions, Mr. Wilder says the scenes in the famine district are horrifying. Children are being given away by the afflicted people, dead lay by the roadside, and the misery of the sufferers is being increased by severe snow and cold. The famine area stretches over a territory 300 by 150 miles.

The Red Cross today cabled to China $5,000 which was contributed by John D. Rockefeller.

In a mail report to the State Department, dated December 30th, from American Minister Calhoun at Pekin it is stated that the number of sufferers in two provinces—Kiangau and Anhui—is not less than three million, with a prospect that the affliction will become greater and more widespread after the Chinese New Year (January 30th). The minister estimates that two million gold dollars will be required to provide relief.

In addition to the famine the plague is also making heavy in-roads upon the population.

RILEY GETS SIX MONTHS.

Convicted of Giving Away Information In Famous "Sugar Letter."

New York, Feb. 10.—Thomas P. Riley, formerly an employe of the Inter-State Commerce Commission, must serve six months in the penitentiary at Blackwell's Island for furnishing interesting "sugar trust" material to the magazines. He was found guilty late today by a jury in the United States Circuit Court of causing to be published without authority a letter from Attorney General Wickersham to United States District Attorney Wise with reference to the prosecution of the American Sugar Refining Company.

Within half an hour he was on his way to serve his sentence. The conviction came solely as regards the Wickersham document, and under a State law prohibiting the publication of private documents without permission.

Till urinary troubles destroy night's rest.
Profit by a Wilmington citizen's experience.

Mrs. W. W. Mince, 712 Vollers St., Wilmington, N. C., says: "I am very thankful to Doan's Kidney Pills for the great benefit I received from their use. For a long time kidney trouble clung to me and I was caused great annoyance by the kidney secretions. My back ached and I did not seem able to get a minute's peace. Some days I was hardly able to move around to attend to my work. At last I got a supply of Doan's Kidney Pills from Bellamy's Drug Store and they restored me to good health." (Statement given February 24, 1908.)

Always Effective.

Mrs. Mince was interviewed on December 27, 1910, and she said: "I can still speak highly of Doan's Kidney Pills and recommend them as being good for kidney trouble. During the past two years I have taken this remedy and it has always had a prompt and beneficial effect."

COTTON IS STILL GOING DOWN

Slight Advance Followed by Generally Declining Market in Late Trading—Loss of 7 to 13 Points During Day.

New York, Feb. 10.—A slight advance at the opening of the cotton market this morning was followed by a somewhat irregular, but generally declining market with the close easy at a net loss of 7 to 13 points.

The opening was steady at an advance of 2 to 5 points in response to better cables than due, larger English spot sales and a renewal of yesterday's late covering movement with May contracts selling at 14.38 on the call, or about 21 points above the low level of yesterday morning. At this level offerings became heavier while the market was pretty well sustained during the early trading by straddle buying through Liverpool houses, as soon as the English market closed there was less support and prices weakened quite sharply after midday. May closed at 14.20 bid, or 18 points below the opening figures and last prices were at the lowest for the day.

Trade interests were again moderate buyers, but recent buyers for a reaction appeared to be disappointed that covering was not more active following the recent decline and on the eve of a three days' adjournment as the American market will be closed from tonight until next Tuesday morning while Liverpool will remain open. There was considerable liquidation during the late trading as well as continued operations for short account.

The relatively large into-sight figures for the week probably strengthened increased estimates of the crop and the unfavorable view of the trade situation appeared to be favored by private cables from Liverpool reporting labor troubles in Lancasnire. One of the cables received said that these labor troubles had resulted in stopping 9,000 looms but that the dispute was not expected to spread. While private advices from the South continued generally bullish as to the spot situation, some less favorable advices are now being received and reports concerning the Texas rains are also somewhat conflicting.

Receipts at the ports today 42,504 bales against 30,270 last week and 18,730 last year; for the week 165,000 bales against 182,598 last week and 90,830 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans 2,516 bales against 3,612 last year.

Spot cotton closed quiet; middling uplands 14.35; middling gulf 14.60; sales 304 bales. Futures opened steady and closed easy.

Tortured for 15 Years

by a cure-defying stomach trouble that baffled doctors, and resisted all remedies he tried, John W. Modders, of Moddersville, Mich., seemed doomed. He had to sell his farm and give up work. His neighbors said, "he can't live much longer." "Whatever I ate distressed me," he wrote, "till I tried Electric Bitters, which worked such wonders for me that I can now eat things I could not take for years. It's surely a grand remedy for stomach trouble." Just as good for the liver and kidneys. Every bottle guaranteed. Only 50c at R. R. Bellamy's.

STEEL FEATURES THE MARKET

Affect of Unexpected Good January Report—Stocks Were Rather Dull Throughout Day—Gould Stocks Active.

New York, Feb. 10.—Wall street's indifference, so far as the movement of stocks demonstrated, to the unexpectedly good January report of the United States Steel Corporation, today's demonstration apply the apathetic condition into which the market has fallen.

The increase of 486,000 tons in unfilled orders at the end of January was much above expectations and was the first increase to be shown since the publication of the report for the quarter of 1909. Unfilled orders then amounted to 5,927,000 tons from which time the ebbing tide of business rusulted in steady losses until on December 31st last the figures had been reduced to 2,647,000 tons. United States Steel rose less than half a point on publication of the report today and almost immediately reacted. The general list made no response whatever.

The stock market did little all day long. It opened fairly strong and advanced on distribution of buying orders. The advance, however, elicited little support and prices fell off when room traders took their profits. Movements thereafter were insiderable, and trading fell off to the smalest proportions of the week. The market was well sustained, however, until the final hour, when renewed efforts to depress prices resulted in the lowest quotations of the day for some of the active issues. Gould stocks were again active and Missouri Pacific advanced to its highest level for the present movement. The latest gossip as to those issues includes the report that a traffic agreement is to be made between the Harriman lines and the Western Pacific. No confirmation of the report was obtainable in official quarters.

Private cables from London indicate early announcement from Paris of the Southern Pacific bond sale which has been pending for several weeks and of other American financing in European markets. Known movements of money to the close of business yesterday showed a cash gain by the banks of $7,262,000 from the interior, indicating that the loss in receipts was smaller than was generally expected.

Indications, however, are that tomorrow's bank statement will show a smaller cash gain than has been the case for several weeks.

Bonds were firm. Total sales par value $3,381,000. United States bonds unchanged on call.

Total sales stocks for the day 333,700 shares.

THE GRAIN MARKET.

Chicago, Feb. 10.—Advices to the effect that the reciprocity agreement could pass the Senate on a forced vote depressed the wheat market today. Flattening out of the cash demand further discouraged the bulls and so did the poor trade in flour. Closing prices were weak at a net decline of 1¼ to 1⅝@1⅞. Corn closed ½@⅝c. to ⅝@¾c. lower; oats were ¾@⅞, and provisions 12½ to 32½ lower.

RECOVERY IN LIVERPOOL.

Rather More Than Expected on Market Yesterday—Features of Day.

(Special Star Telegram.)

New York, Feb. 10.—The recovery in Liverpool was rather more than looked for, but at the opening there were many sellers, partly those who had bought yesterday and the day before, and partly other parties who became discouraged at the continued heavy movement. In the past no such movement ever occurred in February at from a small crop, so, in spite of reports that all of the cotton is out of the country, the trade is becoming to believe that the crop has been very much underestimated. In the afternoon an effort was made to rally the market by the leading houses, only to meet with further liquidation, which finally closed the market at the lowest point since October, with the temper depressed. The hedged spot cotton in the South is being freely offered at concessions, almost equal to the decline in the contract markets. Light rains in Texas added to the weakness.

Local yarn markets are dull. Retailers are buying conservatively in jobbing houses for Spring shipment.

REVIEW OF COTTON FOR WEEK

Market Has Been Subjected to Pressure Al the Week—Steady Liquidation Both at Home and Abroad.

New York, Feb. 10.—Cotton has been subject to pressure all the week, not only from bad advices from Liverpool telling of poor trade and falling quotations, but also from such things as a manifest decline in Lancashire trade.

The plague and famine in China, which has called forth measures of belief from the American government, an almost uninterrupted decline in the price of bar silver thus correspondingly restricting the buying lower of the far East, and finally from continued larger receipts, the big available supply in the world of a size seldom equalled at this time of the year, and last but far from least, the occurrence of much needed rains in many parts of Texas where farmers, moreover, are said to be unusually well advanced with their Spring work and to show a disposition to increase the acreage by breaking up soil, never hitherto devoted to cotton. There has been steady liquidation also both at home and azroad. "Stale" long accounts have been thrown overboard by disgusts zulls in various parts of the country. Some large spot interests have been selling. The reports of trade from New England are not favorable. The mills in that section are said to be quiet reducing their output because of unsatisfactry quotations and the persistent slowness of trade. The spinners too, show a disposition to hold aloof, being afraid to buy raw material in a falling market, and being naturally nervous from a fear of becoming loaded with costly cotton in a poor market for goods. English spinners are supposed to be carry very heavy supplies. The blief is general that the next acreage at the South will be very large under the stimulus of so relatively high prices as $70 a bale or more. The weather as well as the acreage must settle the problem as to the size of the next yield. The price has recently fallen something like $5 per bale, many weak accounts have been wiped out, the technical speculative position undoubtedly has been strengthened thereby and Liverpool's spot sales on the closing day of the week suddenly swelled to a large total. Also it is predicted that the receipts in the near future, possibly next week, will show a sharp falling off. The short interest has naturally increased on the decline. Spinners have bought to some extent and large spot interests also have purchased.

It is pointed out too that some of the spot interests have rarely been defeated on the bull side of the market whatever may have happened to them when they escaped the cause of the bears. Some leading bulls have given support from time to time. It is felt on all sides that whether temporary or otherwise a rally is due after so pronounced a deoline.

DUN'S REVIEW OF TRADE.

Signs of Improvement Feature of the Week—Expanding Interest.

New York, Feb. 10.—R. G. Dun & Co's. weekly Review of Trade tomorrow will say:

Signs of improvement continue to multiply. The marked betterment in the condition of the money and investment markets has served to inspire greater confidence in the industries and trades, and especially in the iron and steel industry, in which there are unmistakable proofs of expanding interests and activity, particularly in finished products. The building outlook brightens perceptibly as Spring approaches and there is a good prospect of much new construction.

There is practically no change in footwear conditions. Jobbers are forwarding some few mail orders, but there is no general buying movement in progress. The markets in hides and leather show considerably less activty than previously. Lower raw material has caused ease in some lines of cotton goods in the primary markets, but brown drills and sheetings hold steadier than print cloth yarn fabrics and the mills are increasing curtailment steadily, that at Fall River at present amounting to about 50,000 pieces of print cloths a week. The trading in dress goods and men's wear for Fall is along conservative lines. Certain lines of silk are in steady active call. The yarn markets are quiet.

FOR THE THIN AND SCRAWNY.

Samose Will Make You Plump and Rosy, Says J. Hicks Bunting.

If you are getting thin you are sick, although you may not know it. If you are losing weight steadily, there is something wrong that needs looking after. If you have always been thin it doesn't follow that you are sick, but you may not be healthy. You cannot be strong if you are thin.

Try then to be healthy and plump, it is not difficult if you know how.

BODY WAS NOT STOLEN.

Only Jewels Were Taken When Thieves Entered Mausoleum.

Erie, Pa., Feb. 10.—Private detectives investigating the desecration of the Scott mausoleum in Erie cemetery from which it was reported a body had been taken, announced tonight that while marauders had entered the mausoleum, the body had been found in another crypt. This report was made after the detectives had explored the mausoleum. The report is not generally credited, however, in view of the family's report to the police two days ago when the vandalism was first discovered. The detectives announced that the robbers were after jewels that might have been on the women's bodies in the tomb. They say the bodies of Mrs. McCollum and Mrs. W. L. Scott were the only ones taken from the caskets and the jewels were taken from these. The fact that the caskets of the men were not broken open, they claim, substantiates this statement.

Louis Wadlinger, a milk man, told the police today of seeing the men come through the cemetery fence, and of hearing hammering in the mausoleum. This report has been investigated and it is expected arrests will be made soon.

Arrests Will Be Made.

The square marble slabs that had sealed the crypts has been unscrewed, two of these had been replaced in a reversed position and were broken. From one of the crypts the casket was half way out. The disturbed caskets were those of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Scott, Mrs. Anna McCollum and Richard Townsend, a son-in-law of Scott.

Nohting of value was removed from the mausoleum or any of the bodies. The statement of detectives that jewels were sought by the robbers was ridiculed by the family. In the mausoleum was found a coat, a pick axe, a jack knife and a can opener. Through these it is asserted tonight two arrests will be made in the morning. The names are known but the police will not permit them to be made public.

The motive for the vandalism is pronounced one of venegeance.

FOR THE "JIM CROW" LAW.

Declared to be Constitutional In State Of Oklahoma.

St. Louis, Mo., Feb. 10.—The United States Circuit Court of Appeals decided today that Oklahoma's "Jim Crow" law is contsitutional. Judge E. B. Adams filed the opinion which was concurred in by Judge W. C. Hook. Judge W. H. Sanborn, presiding judge, filed a dissenting opinion.

The court held that the Oklahoma law is not a violation of the Fourteenth amendment to the constitution. The negroes, who brought the action, declared they were being denied equal protection under the laws. The case originated in the United States District Court of Oklahoma, where negroes sought an injunction to restrain the operation of the law which provided that all common carriers must have separate coaches and waiting rooms for negroes.

Sewanee, Tenn., Feb. 10.—The Hodgson Memorial Infirmary, of the University of the South, was burned this afternoon. Only one annex, containing operating room, was saved. Loss estimated at $25,000, partially covered by insurance.

and will remain so, reciprocity or no reciprocity. It is a mere truism to say that the farmers of a country constitute the greatest wealth producing class of the country. When we have had good crops the wheels of all industries have moved and wealth has been stored. Any one, therefore, who would initiate a policy to injure the farmer, has much to answer for at the bar of public opinion.

"The total production of corn in the United States in 1910," he said, "was 3,125,713,000 bushels of which we exported 44,072,209 and used the rest in domestic consumption. The Canadian product was 18,726,000 bushels, or six-tenths of one per cent. of the total production of the United States. We exported six million bushels to Canada.

"But it is said that the farm land of Ohio, Indiana and Ohio States is much more valuable than the land in the four great northwestern provinces of Canada and that it gives Canadian farmers free entry of products raised on cheaper lands will be certain to lower farm lands in value in this country. Nothing could be further from the fact. The Canadian lands are farther removed from the Minneapolis and Chicago markets than the lands of Minnesota, Wisconsin and Iowa, and proximity to market is a most important element in the value of farm land.

"The price of wheat, less transportation and other charges for warehouse and delivery is fixed by what all the wheat exporting countries, including the United States and Canada, can get for their surplus in Liverpool. Hence the sending of any party of Canada's surplus through our country instead of through Canada to be milled or to be exported without milling will not perceptibly or materially affect the price of wheat for our farmers.

"Let the agreement be adopted and go into operation and in six months, the farmers on the border who now have fears will rejoice in this great step toward closer business and social relations with our neighbors. The whole country, farmer, manufacturer, railroad company, middle man, all will be gainers."

Congress Considering Treaty.

Washington, Feb. 10.—The Canadian reciprocity agreement made some progress in Congress today through discussions of the House Ways and Means Committee and a conference of Democratic senators, but action in both cases was deferred, the committee adjourning until tomorrow morning and the Democratic senators adjourning until Tuesday.

At the Ways and Means Committee session Chairman Payne was absent, but sent word that he would like to be present when the vote is taken. He is ill at his home with the grip and hoped to improve sufficiently to attend the session tomorrow, though some of his colleagues believe he will still be too ill to come to the capitol.

Most of the committee's time was devoted to a discussion by Representative Mann, of Illinois, of the phraseology of the McCall bill, which embodies the provisions of the agreement.

MILES SAYS FORTIFY CANAL.

Lieutenant General Gives Reason—Argument Against It.

New York, Feb. 10.—To fortify or not to fortify was the bone of an after dinner discussion of the Panama canal at the Economic Club's banquet at the Hotel Astor tonight. "Fortify," said the veteran fighter, Lieutenant General Nelson A. Miles, U. S. A., retired.

"Don't," cautioned an eminent authority on law, Professor Henry Wade Rogers, dean of the Yale law school, the disagreement between the speakers was a friendly one and was shared by others who addressed the meeting—Dr. Louis Livingston Seaman, major general of the United States volunteer engineers; Henry Reuterdahl, the marine artist, and naval authority; Congressman J. Warren Keifer, of Ohio; Henry Clews and George Henry Putnam.

Count Apponyi, the eminent Hungarian statesman, who has come to America to discuss peace problems, dropped in for a moment. "Every military man must know," said General Miles, "that in the case of war the Isthmian canal would be, if possible the first place to be seized by a foreign foe and every student of history must know that treaties are disregarded in almost every war."

"The next war will be in the Caribbean sea and we are inviting a disaster by not fortifying the canal," declared Mr. Reuterdahl.

PRESIDENT SPOKE TO STUDENTS.

Delivered Address at Ohio State University—Potash Dispute.

Columbus, O., Feb. 10.—Conservation of phosphates and the status of the dispute between the United States and Germany over American potash mine contracts were topics President Taft touched on tonight at the Ohio State University.

President Taft and President William O. Thompson, of the University, were the only speakers.

"With the past few months," said Mr. Taft, "I have directed the withdrawal of millions of acres of lands known to contain phosphates, to prevent their acquisition by private capital. The time will come when American farmers will need them.

"We have no power to forbid exportation or to charge a duty on exports, but if the government owns the resources [illegible] possible for the government to control the product."

He called attention to exhaustion of South Carolina phosphate lands and said the thing Americans needed most was potash. This, he said, he had been told, by the head of the geological survey, might be found in some of the desert lands.

The President narrated the story of American contracts for the product of phosphate mines in Germany and the difficulty the Department of State was having in negotiating the deals.

NEW YORK SITUATION.

Still in Hopeless Deadlock With No Quorum Present.

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 10.—With Governor Dix, Charles F. Murphy, William F. Sheehan and other Democratic leaders in New York, the handful of legislators who remained here tonight express the opinion that some way out of the Senatorial dilemma might be reached, there so as to put an end to the deadlock next week. Governor Dix is expected to talk over the situation with Mayor Gaynor before his return but there are no present indications that the Governor intends to interfere in anyway.

The deadlock apparently is as firm as ever. There was no quorum at today's session and not more than a dozen or 15 members are expected to cast their votes tomorrow. The majority of the legislators do not expect to return to Albany until Tuesday and there may be no quorum on Monday.

THESE WOMEN ALMOST ONE.

Bohemian Twins Are Fastened Together at the Hips.

London, Feb. 10.—The Bohemian twins, Josefa and Rosa Blazek, who are joined together somewhat after the fashion of the Siamese twins, arrived in London the other night from Edinburgh, where they have been appearing in public. They traveled with one ticket, contending that they are only one person.

On reaching King's Cross the guard, who declared that they were two, took their names and address. The two girls are joined together at the hips, but in most respects they are two complete women, each with two legs and two arms. They are independent of each other mentally, and one can go to sleep while the other is awake. They were born at Tabor and are 31 years of age.

Columbia, S. C., Feb. 10.—"That B. R. Tillman, trustee of Winthrop College (the State Normal and Industrial School for Girls) and United States Senator is holding one or the other offices contrary to the constitution of the State," is one of the statements in the report presented tonight by the special legislative committee named to investigate the simultaneous holding of two offices of "honor, trust or profit." The report is the outgrowth of a message from Governor Blease pointed out of the cases of one man holding two offices.

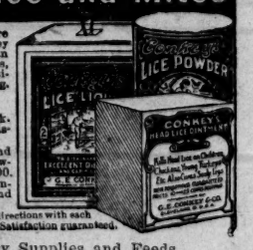
Quick Death to Hen Lice and Mites
Hen lice, chicken lice, and mites, cost the poultryman more money than all the other items of poultry expense combined. They are responsible for more disease and more poor egg records than all other causes together. They infest brooders and roosting places, and multiply by tens of thousands a week. But they can be positively exterminated at a mighty small cost compared to the saving.



CONKEY'S INVINCIBLE TRIO—
Lice Powder, Lice Liquid and Lice Ointment—does the work. Conkey's Lice Powder will kill all body lice. An unequalled disinfectant and a positive germicide. 25c; 50c; $1.00.
Conkey's Lice Liquid is a positive death dealer to mites and lice. A germicide and preventive. Penetrates crevices where powder will not. Harmless to fowls of any age. Qt. 35c; Gal. $1.00.
Conkey's Head Lice Ointment is the only positive exterminator on the market for the parasites that pester little chicks and cause them to droop and die. 10c and 25c.
These wonderful remedies sold in quantities to suit purchaser. Complete directions with each package. Used by thousands of poultrymen throughout the United States. Satisfaction guaranteed.
